

PCMG Weekly Digest

Dear Master Gardener,

I hope you have all had another wonderful and productive week. Just like that we have almost completed the first week of Fall. I am thankful summer was lighter than normal this year and its already feeling like fall. I hope your fall gardens are in full swing. A lot of stuff coming up this next week or two so please read the full weekly digest.

The new master gardener class has been selected and we are excited to meet them when training starts at the end of October. If its been a while since you have attended the training and want to sit in on a lecture or two please feel free to join us at the State Office. I will be posting the schedule at the bottom of this weeks digest. You are free to sit in on any lecture you would like. Please note if you plan on joining for the full day or sit in on a lecture around lunch you will need to bring your own meal.

Tuesday we are helping give back to St. James! Starting at 9 Am we plan to meet at St. James to help them get ready for fall. Please bring work tools and we may need a few shovels and rakes. This does count towards your hours so if you are short a few here is a good opportunity.

Also Tuesday, at 11:30 we still need a few more volunteers to help decorate some tables for Dinner at the Vines. We are just doing some simple decorations, and it shouldn't take long. Lunch will be provided. This will count as community out reach hours. Email me if you are interested

We have a new Magnolia Chronicle out this month with some wonderful information. Be sure to check it out below. Working on this through the chaos of summer is impressive. The crew that works on the chronicle does such hard work and I love reading the new issues. Be sure to give thank them for their hard work when you see them at the meeting next week.

Thank you for joining constant contact. Feel free to reach out if you have any questions or concerns.

Happy Gardening,
Derek Reed

THE Magnolia CHRONICLE

Pulaski County Master Gardener Newsletter

The newest edition of the Magnolia Chronicle is here! Inside, you'll find a message from our president, Pam Abrams, Seed Stories, Tree issues, Pollinators and more!

Magnolia Chronicle

Volunteers Needed!

Dinner at the vines has requested our help next Tuesday starting at 11:30 at the Vines, 4-H center. It should not take too long. We have 45 tables to decorate. We are doing simple fall decor using pumpkins and small gourds. Lunch will be provided. Please email me if you are interested.

Awards are coming up soon! In the past we haven't had that many submissions for master gardener awards so we are going to simplify the process this year. A new nomination application is available now.
